

15 billion trees are lost each year due to deforestation, land development, and bad forest management. Earth Day Network is trying to replace these trees one by one.

48 football fields of trees are lost every minute, that's approximately 91,398 acres of trees per day and 25,228,800 football fields each year. Visit earthday.org for more information.

Let's Plant 7.8 billion trees before Earth Day's 50th Anniversary in 2020. Trees help combat climate change. Trees help us breathe clean air by absorbing odors and pollutant gases. Trees help communities achieve long-term economic and environmental sustainability. We Can Do This.
